

I do not believe that the morse code requirement for an General class and above Amateur radio license should be dropped.